PLAN ADMINISTRATION AT YOUR FINGERTIPS

Now that the weather is turning warmer, we shift gears to outdoor activities and start to think about ways we can save time and energy in the amount of paperwork that lands on our desks on a regular basis.

One thing that comes to mind is the administration of your health plan. Many employers will add or terminate employees using the traditional method of filling out forms and sending them in to the insurance company with the hope that they are received timely and that those employees will appear or be removed on the next billing statement.

Your clients may not realize that many of the insurance carriers offer administration of their plans directly online.

All the employer needs to do is register and they can add, terminate and even change their plan at renewal on their computers and print out a confirmation right there. This can come in quite handy especially for adding new employees as they will get at least a temporary ID number while they await their formal ID Cards mailed to them from the carriers.

By setting up your online access, you can also review your plan benefits including checking to see what the eligibility period is for new employees, review and print a recent billing statement, check the individual rates for single, employee/spouse, employee/children and family so you can determine the additional increase or decrease in premium when adding or deleting employees. Think of how much time this will save without having to go and retrieve your policy and sift through the paperwork to get this information.

Another advantage is that you can also download additional forms that are offered, i.e. Prescription Drug Formulary listings, Gym Reimbursement, plus much more. All sites give you 24/7 access. Call us to learn more!
